

Jack Garigliano

2539 N. Humboldt Blvd, Milwaukee, WI 53212
206-790-9982 • jack.garigliano@u.northwestern.edu

Education

Northwestern University

Ph.D. student in Political Science

9/2020 – Present

- Specializing in American Politics with an interest in public policy, political economy, and parties.
- Coursework in addition to the core American Politics seminars included American Political Development, the Politics of American Inequality, Economic Sociology, Race and Political Behavior, and Intersectionality and Measurement
- Committee members: Daniel Galvin (chair), Chloe Thurston, Laurel Harbridge-Yong

Marquette University

Master of Arts in Political Science

1/2017 – 5/2020

- Completed an M.A. degree focused on comparative politics and political economy while working full-time at Microsoft
- Coursework included Comparative Politics, Comparative Political Economy, International Political Economy, Urban Politics, the Sociology of Inequality, and the Politics of Inequality.
- Comprehensive exam advisors: Duane Swank, Julia Azari, Richard Friman

University of Wisconsin – Madison

Bachelor of Arts in English and History

9/2006 – 5/2010

- Undergraduate thesis in History focused on agricultural organizations

Teaching Experience

Teaching Assistant at Northwestern University

9/2021 – Present

- Assisted in lectures and led discussion sections in courses on Comparative Politics, American Politics, Constitutional Law, and Empirical Methods

Writing Tutor at Seattle Central College

9/2010 – 4/2011

- Staffed the Writing Lab for scheduled and drop-in appointments to tutor students on issues related to thesis, structure, grammar and MLA format in their written coursework

Writing Fellow at University of Wisconsin

8/2008 – 7/2010

- Enrolled in a Writing Across the Curriculum seminar, learning about the rhetorical strategies involved in academic writing and effective approaches for teaching it
- Assigned to a class of 12-15 students each semester to help them design and write their research papers

Research Experience

Graduate Research Assistant at Northwestern University

9/2022 – 3/2023

- Assisted advisor through the Institute for Policy Research by compiling data on state-level employment laws and performing other administrative tasks

Professional Experience

Microsoft News

Homepage Editor

2/2013 – 6/2020

- Updated the MSN.com homepage with the latest news and trending topics
- Analyzed traffic data to identify trends in the audience's interest in news stories, lifestyle features, seasonal events, and other topics
- Measured the effect of promotional placements on audience engagement
- Made recommendations to leadership team on editorial topics to pursue and other programming strategies

Q13 FOX News

Digital Producer/Web Reporter

8/2012 – 11/2012

- Wrote news articles for local station's website, gathering information from newsroom sources and ensuring copy met editorial standards

Conference participation

"Democracy at work: Legislating employment relations in a changing labor market." Panel presentation, American Political Science Association, September 2023 (upcoming)

Consortium for American Political Economy (CAPE) Summer Academy, Summer 2023

"Inside (and outside) jobs: US policy and party responsiveness in a changing labor market." Panel presentation, Midwest Political Science Association, April 2023

"The dilemma of employment-oriented social policy in a changing labor market." Panel presentation, American Political Science Association, September 2022

"Redistributive paradigms and their impact on left party support." Panel presentation, Midwest Political Science Association, April 2022

"The Primary's Effects on Public Preferences: Evidence from the pre-1972 presidential primaries." Panel presentation, American Political Science Association, September 2021

Awards & Honors

Institute for Policy Research Graduate Assistantship (2022-23)

Minar Memorial Summer Grant (2022)

Baensch Prize for Undergraduate Thesis in Wisconsin History (2010)